[redacted] talked with [redacted] DIA, concerning Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee's letters to DIA and ourselves on the subject of updating testimony given before the Subcommittee on the subject of subversion in Latin America, terrorism in Venezuela and the flight of currency from Latin American countries to other world capitals. [redacted] said DIA was most anxious to present a unified position on this matter indicating that [redacted] had voiced his approval of the papers which we had prepared for the Subcommittee. On the basis of prior conversations between the agencies, DIA is merely associating itself with our paper indicating that it collaborated with the Agency in its preparation.
